

A Larger Newton Graphic

Some weeks ago we announced the first of certain changes in the make-up and appearance of the Newton Graphic in keeping with the trend of modern newspaper practices. With this issue we take another step in the enlargement and improvement for our readers' benefit. The eight-column make-up which we inaugurate with this issue provides for a fewer number of pages without the sacrifice of news space, and a more satisfactory layout for advertising material. We know that our readers will enjoy this forward step as they have the changes in general appearance in regard to which we have received many favorable comments.

Fantastic Defense?

To many persons the development of local defense plans against bombing and invasion sound fantastic and beyond the realm of possibility. Can it happen here? Is it hysteria and panic that grips some of those who seem most concerned? Many are the questions which tumble over one another in the minds of Newton citizens.

Yes, it can happen here. There is no need for hysteria and panic. But there is need for something of an awakening to the dread possibilities, remote though they may seem. There is need to throw off that inertia that has been too frequently evident, before it becomes too late.

There is need for training, preparation and adequate protection of American homes and citizens. Even though that preparation and training may never be put to use it is not wasted effort. Voluntary co-operation is expected. The more it is available the less the need for compulsory compliance in the future.

Alderman Floyd Says Attics and Cellars to Be Cleared of Inflammable Materials and Rubbish

To Install Radio Broadcasting Set at Fire Headquarters

"Barrels of sand, stirrup pumps and other fire extinguishing equipment in the attics and cellars of Newton homes before the end of the summer." Fantastic? Not in the words of Charles B. Floyd, chairman of the Newton Public Safety Committee, one of thirty Newton men taking the air raid precaution school defense course, and President of the Newton Board of Aldermen.

With permission to be quoted, Alderman Floyd told of numerous other plans being made to defend Newton homes and citizens from possible bombing attacks. He added "those in position to know have grave concern for the future." Stressing the need for the American people to awaken from the inertia which grips them, there is no need or sense in becoming "hysterical or panicky."

These remarks were made following the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night at which time President Floyd, speaking from the floor, urged the passage of an order appropriating $550 towards the cost of equipment for a radio broadcasting set to be installed at fire headquarters in connection with local defense plans. The appropriation was unanimously voted after the explanation made by the Auburn-dale Alderman.

Two weeks ago the order had been laid on the table pending further information upon the motion of Alderman Charles Hughes of Auburn-dale. Prior to the adjournment of the Board on Monday night Alderman Barwise, acting chairman of the Finance Committee, yielded the floor to President Floyd in order that the Board might hear the reasons for the desired appropriation.

Opening his remarks with the apology that his absence from the Board at recent meetings in connection with the defense course had resulted in insufficient information being given, Alderman Floyd stated that "in the opinion of Army and Navy officials under whom the Newton Public Safety Committee is acting there is much to be learned from the inadequate bombing protection in this area of the country. The Government is establishing observation points every six miles which will be manned by keen observers to spot airplanes. Signals will be flashed to two points on the New England coast, Boston and either Portland or Bangor, Me. These signals will be relayed to Wind-sor Locks where a central observation post will handle all information as to the forthcoming raid, the points being raided, the direction of flight, number of planes and other details needed to plan the proper defense.

"Air raid wardens will be sent to their positions and will transmit and receive reports. In Newton the radio broadcasting set will be located in headquarters at the fire department where space is available. They will be in position to know the kind of damage and the extent, whether utility services have been crippled and what type of assistance is needed in the locality.

"The Government is setting up a 'must' program under the ARP. When complete nearly 500 Newton men and women will be trained for the purpose. Each will have charge of a section of two or three streets and will be required to know the detailed information re-

Aldermen Reject Cut-off to Riverway

The street traffic committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen reported that no action was advisable on the suggestion of residents of the Charlesbank road section of Newton that Russell road be extended to the Charles river road parkway in order to relieve traffic congestion in that area. Philip R. Cook and twenty-two others had filed with the aldermen a request that Russell road be extended and that Charlesbank road be made one-way, traveling west, from the river road to Russell road.

The Aldermanic committee had been informed that the Metropolitan District Commission did not deem the suggestion advisable due to the presence of a 5-foot water pipe at the end of the street over which there is but one foot of material. The heavy travel would thus probably have resulted in damage to the pipe. In addition a petition opposing the use of Russell road as a short cut to the riverway had been filed bearing the names of 68 persons, all residents of Russell road and neighboring vicinity.

Whitmore Elected Ward 5 Alderman

Newton Highlands Man Takes Seat on Board

Howard Whitmore, Jr., of Newton Highlands was elected Monday night by members of the Newton Board of Aldermen to fill the vacancy in the office of Alderman-at-Large from Ward 5 by the recent resignation of Alderman Donald D. McKay. Mr. Whitmore is thirty-six years old, has been a lifelong resident of Newton Highlands and resides with his wife and three-year-old son at 88 Carver rd.

He was educated in the Newton public schools, graduating from high school in 1924 and from Harvard, with the degree of A.B., with the class of 1929. During his high school career he was president of his class for four years, captain two years of the baseball team upon which he was a star pitcher, and winner of the boys' senior cup. At Harvard he played varsity baseball for three years, was a member of the C. S. D. Committee and the Varsity Club. He is associated with a Boston financial house as an investment counselor.

Mr. Whitmore is a member of the Newton Highlands Men's Club, St. Paul's Episcopal Church. For the past three years he has served as secretary of the Episcopalian Club of Massachusetts and became vice-president of that organization at the 1941 annual meeting.

The candidacy of Whitmore was the result of a recent meeting in Waban among interested citizens of various parts of the Ward when the question of proposing a successor to Alderman McKay was discussed. A group of citizens of Newton Highlands put forth the name of Whitmore, who is a resident of Oak Hill sponsored by Wendell R. Bauckman of 336 Dedham st. in that section. Subsequently Bauckman withdrew his name from consideration.

Honor Rector For 50 Years of Service

Special Service and Reception for Dr. Sullivan

A special service on Sunday, June 8th in honor of Rev. Edward Taylor Sullivan, D.D., will mark the observance of fifty years of service to the church as its rector. Further recognition of the event will be made in a reception next Tuesday evening at the Newton Centre Women's Club from 8 to 10 p. m. Bishop William Lawrence and Dr. Everett C. Herrick, president and dean of Andover Newton Theological School, will be the speakers at the service Sunday morning in the church.

As a student in the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge in 1891 Edward T. Sullivan went to Trinity Church each Sunday as student pastor, preaching to a congregation of about half a dozen families. On his graduation he was made rector of the parish which built a wooden church on Pelham st. in 1895. The present church was dedicated in 1916.

Dr. Sullivan was born at Castle-town, County Cork, Ireland, on August 23, 1861, son of John Taylor and Elizabeth (Boxwell) Sullivan. His father was school principal at Castle-town and his grandfather a lay preacher. He was brought to America at the age of eight by his parents. In Detroit at 13 he became an office boy with the Michigan Central railroad, worked up to a minor clerkship and then for 10 years was with a Detroit grocery concern.

During his spare time he studied Greek, Latin and mathematics and secured a teaching position. After two years as a teacher he entered Trinity College at Hartford, paying his way by a scholarship and vacation work on a Detroit newspaper, graduating from Trinity College in 1889 and from the Episcopal Theological School (Continued on page 6)

Request for Boys' School Is Refused

Aldermen Reject Other Petitions For Zoning, Blast Damage and Sign

The petition for a permit to establish a private school for boys in the Farlow Hill section of Newton, the petition for a change of zone to business section of land in the rear of the Newton Centre Methodist Church, a claim for damage because of blasting, and a petition for a metal billboard in West Newton were among matters rejected by the Board of Aldermen at the meeting on Monday night.

The petition for the private school to be conducted in a brick mansion at the corner of Franklin st. and Waverley ave. was adversely reported by the unanimous vote of the Claims and Rules committee. Chairman George E. Rawson of that committee explained that the proposed school would increase the traffic hazard now existing at one of the most dangerous intersections in the city. In addition to the intersection of the two streets at this point, another street (Nonantum st.) makes a (Continued on page 6)

Governor Saltonstall Heads Parade—Sounds Call For Freedom

"It is our duty to preserve the future of America," said Governor Leverett Saltonstall as the keynote of his Memorial Day speech at the annual ceremonies in reverent tribute to the city's war dead. In sounding a call for world freedom the Governor added, "Today it is up to us to maintain the status of free men in this country and throughout the world. Our young men and women will do their part to maintain that freedom. That is our task in this world crisis."

A parade of more than 1500 marchers, witnessed by thousands of spectators, and augmented by a larger than usual audience at the Newton Cemetery was Newton's major contribution to the day. During the morning Newton veterans and members of patriotic and auxiliary organizations participated in the decoration of soldiers and sailors graves in the several Newton cemeteries.

Governor Saltonstall was chief marshal of the parade and Mayor Paul M. Goddard as chief of staff and Harold D. Ames, chairman of the Newton Veterans' Council as adjutant general, with an escort of police headed the parade which fell into line on Washington st., near the fire station at Newton Corner at two o'clock. Saltonstall, attired in his regimental veteran's uniform, and Mayor Goddard in frock coat and high hat, received a continual ovation from the massed spectators all along the route. The route followed Washington st. to Walnut, thence to the Newton Cemetery where the afternoon exercises were held, and returning to the Newton City Hall where the parade passed in review before the Governor and his staff.

Odd Bits of Odd News

Quick Service
Before he knew that his car had been stolen from his garage James Orr of 112 Homer st., Newton Centre, was informed by Brookline police that the automobile had been found abandoned on Crafts st., in that town. The car had been taken sometime Friday night.

Aldermen Urged To Shoot
Instead of continuing to hurl verbal "shots" in the temperance chamber Newton city fathers may take up actual pistol shooting practice when the new range is completed at West Newton. Alderman Barwise urged the members to form teams of five men each and engage in competition (Target practice — not against each other).

Book Remark For Insult
Misinterpreting a remark cost a West Newton colored man his freedom when he lost his temper and assaulted Pinkney McClary, 61, of Border st., West Newton. McClary was severely beaten over the head with an iron pipe and taken to the Newton Hospital in a serious condition. Police arrested David Evans, 32, of 208 Cherry st., and in custody on Saturday morning was held in $2500 bail by Judge Delay. The case was continued until June 9th when Sgt. Patrick King told the court that Pinkney's injuries "might prove fatal." According to the police the assault resulted from a casual remark of Evans, who ran into a nearby yard, returned with a length of iron pipe and struck the older man over the head. Police, responding to a call, found McClary lying in the street in a pool of blood, shortly before 11 p. m. on Friday night.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, went on their annual pilgrimage on Tuesday, June 3, twenty-six members and nine guests making the trip to Harvard, Mass. Luncheon was served at noon at "The Barn" in the village, after which a visit was made to the estate of Miss Clara Endicott Sears where "Fruitlands" is situated. A visit through the old house, built in 1717, and filled with antiques of the olden days was interestingly explained by the person in charge. Here in 1845 A. Bronson Alcott, the Transcendentalist, tried to create a "New Eden," but the experiment failed after a few months.

The American Indian Museum, which was also visited held many relics of much historical value. Two beautiful bronze statues of Indian figures on the grounds look out over the beautiful valley with Mt. Wachusett and the Berkshire Hills in the distance.

NEWTON SPORTS

Lynch Wins State Singles Title

Jack Lynch, Newton high number one tennis star, became the 1941 state interscholastic singles champion last week, defeating Don Skakle, Waltham ace, in a hard-fought match at the Winchester courts. Lynch was seeded number one and Skakle number two in the tournament. Lynch saw Newton winning the team honors in decisive fashion earlier in the week, for the sixth consecutive year.

The first set was a nip and tuck affair with Skakle carrying Lynch into extra games before the Newton youth chalked up an 8-6 win. Lynch really got going in the second set and broke through Skakle's service repeatedly to blast out a 6-1 set. The Waltham captain rallied in the third set to keep on even terms with Lynch until the Newton boy again broke through for the match point in another 8-6 set.

While Lynch was playing his singles match, the Newton tennis team at the Brookline courts and hanging up their 66th victory. A Brookline pair, Craven and Geleman, saved their team from a shutout by capturing one of the doubles matches over Ogilvie and Simon of Newton. Newton's 8 to 1 was scored by Bill Powers, Captain Stan Collinson, Bill Woods, Ted Wood, Dick Lowry and Art Peabody.

Lynch's experience and tactical excellence brought him through against the Watch City star whose meteoric career in downing favorites during the recent season has been a highlight. Lynch played "smart" tennis all the way, softening up his own game to slow his rival down. Repeatedly Lynch's soft shots would draw Skakle to the net only to be thwarted by the accurate placements which Lynch would then send past into undefended territory.

Skakle's service, one of his most potent weapons, was somewhat erratic and although he got out in front, 4 to 2 and 5 to 4 in the first set, and 5 to 4 in the third set he could not win his own set. Lynch, who is undefeated in schoolboy competition this season while he was Skakle's first setback.

Lynch and Skakle will probably renew their rivalry on Saturday at Providence. Both competed in the Rhode Island State tennis tournament over the week-end with Lynch reaching the final bracket by defeating Anthony Lancelotti of Providence. Skakle gained the semi-final round. The tournament was to have been completed on Sunday but rain forced postponement of play.

Newton Closes Track Season

Following a one-sided victory over Brookline high on Wednesday of last week, the Newton High school track team closed the 1941 outdoor season by placing sixth in the annual Mt. Hermon interscholastic meet at North field for prep and high schools. In this meet Newton scored the most points of any high school, 19.6.

Against the prep school competition Newton failed to capture a first place but Dick Klein in the pole vault, Ted Wood in the mile, and Gordon Thomas in the broad jump all came through with second-place efforts. Stan Merrill took a fourth in the discus, Harris a fifth in the broad jump and Captain Elliot Mover a tie for fourth in the high jump for additional Newton points. The Newton relay quartet finished third behind Belmont High and Choate School. It was Newton 55 1-2, Brookline 2 1-2.

In the dual meet last week, Ray Hunting won both the 100 and 220-yard sprints with Hyde finishing second in the century and Mover third in the longer sprints. Norman Williams won the 440 and Whiting the 880 with the remaining points in these events going to the Wealthy Tanners.

Harry Greenwood and Thomas finished one and two in the 1500 and 3000 yard races. Thomas and Morgan first and second in the broad jump and Mover tied for first and Tower tied for third in the high jump.

fifth road, all of which come together on a fairly steep grade. In addition, the Planning Board has voted disapproval of the petition and all the abutters and persons living opposite the property in question had indicated their opposition. The petition was that of Robert W. Whitmore of Janet rd., Newton Centre, and others, which was the subject of a public hearing a week ago.

The petition for change of zone of land in the single residence on Langley rd. to business was that of Margaret King. Situated between the Newton Centre Methodist Church and a business block it was her contention at a recent hearing that the property was of little value residentially. The committee was divided in its report against the petition, Aldermen Lee and Bacon opposing its rejection.

Alderman Rawson stated that the request had been made in previous years and that the petition was now making use of the King land under a private agreement. He concluded that the property has become "untenable as a residence." In rebuttal Alderman Rawson stated that the petitioners should be given consideration against the encroachment of business, and in reply to a query from Alderman Jamieson, replied that the church building now came within five feet of the lot line.

Inquired as to when the business property on the other side of the King land was zoned and if it had been agreed at that time that the land in question should serve as a buffer between the business section and the church, Alderman Temperley offered the information that he believed the land was zoned in 1922 on the adoption of zoning in Newton and that it had been the understanding of the committee that it would be protected by a "buffer."

On a voice vote Alderman Lee was supported by several "nos" with a majority in favor of rejection of the petition as ruled by Vice-president Walker.

The claim of Robert W. Law for damage to his property at 34 White Pine rd., Waban, allegedly by blasting on the part of the city caused some debate between Aldermen Rawson and Temperley. After pointing out that the city had paid other claims for damages during the construction of the high level sewer he voiced his disapproval of the action of the committee on Claims and Rules in rejecting the petition.

Alderman Rawson contended that in the case of the high level sewer the city had agreed to assume all responsibility with the contractor but that in cases where the city performed its own blasting the claimant must prove negligence.

He further argued that blasting and earthquake experts had testified that a normal charge of dynamite would cause no heavier tremor than that of a passing freight truck and that the city had been using only half this normal charge. In rebuttal Temperley voiced the opinion that even experts made mistakes.

The application for the erection of a metal billboard at the 114 River st., West Newton was rejected. Alderman Fahey, chairman of the Franchise and Licenses committee stated that the location was at an intersection which had been safeguarded by "stop and enter" signs and its erection would create a greater hazard and that it was opposed by the West Newton Men's Club.

Needham Man's Body Found In Charles River

The body of Walter J. Colton, 34, of Central ave., Needham, was found in the Charles River near Hemlock Gorge at Newton Upper Falls on Tuesday afternoon. Colton had been missing from his home since last Thursday. Medical Examiner Thomas Gallagher stated after an investigation that death was due to accidental drowning and expressed the belief that the man had fallen into the river near Echo bridge.

The body was recovered by Patrolman William J. Cronin of the Metropolitan police. It had been sighted near the falls by a member of Cronin's family whose home overlooks the gorge.

Colton was unmarried and made his home with his mother. He was a former Marathon runner having competed in the B. A. A. annual race for several years, finishing the distance twice. He was a lifelong resident of Needham and until recently held a town job. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Julia Colton, a sister, Miss Mildred Colton, and a brother, Raymond, of Newton Upper Falls.

Rotarians Hear Talk on Shooting

David T. Dalton, New England Police Revolver Champion and member of the Newton Police Force, addressed the Newton Rotary Club on Monday, June 2nd. Taking as his subject "Hitting the Bull's Eye," "Dave," who is also the Newton Police Department instructor in personal defence and revolver practice, explained in a most interesting manner how any one may develop into an expert marksman with the revolver. The six basic principles to become a good marksman are position, grip, sighting, breathing, muscle strength and trigger squeeze. Explaining these in an interesting manner, he then gave us the qualifications for the different grades in shooting which one may work up through as he becomes more proficient. They begin with the marksman which in turn leads up to sharpshooter, expert sharpshooter and the highest of all honor, revolver expert. To qualify for the last, one must be able to shoot at least 280 out of a possible 300. There are 72 honor revolver experts in New England, 4 of these are in the Newton Police Department.

Following this interesting talk, he then gave a demonstration of shooting with a .38 calibre service revolver using ammunition loaded for indoor target practice. This included slow firing, rapid firing and fancy shooting. Holding his audience breathless with his skill and proficiency, he was given an ovation at the end. Michael T. Hughes, Chief of the Police Department, was among the guests present. Officer Dalton was introduced by "Dick" Dwyer who incidentally is the coach of the pistol team of the Newton Police Department.

Newton Men's Teachers' Club

Brookline and Newton men teachers joined in an outing at Stow Country Club on Monday, June 2. It was the second joint affair of its kind, the two groups having met together in the fall of 1939.

Major-General Daniel Needham, Director of the Protective Division, Massachusetts Committee of Public Safety, was the principal speaker. He outlined the plans for Air Raid Protection being formulated in the Bay State and told specifically how men teachers could be of most use in the training of the many civilian defense workers. The Newton men present unanimously confirmed the action of the Newton Teachers' Federation in offering full support to the Newton Committee on Public Safety.

Paul Mather, President of the Brookline Teachers' Club, and Edward P. Boulter, President of the Newton Men's Educational Association, were co-chairmen. Among those at the head table were: Russell V. Burkhart, Day Junior High School principal and newly elected President of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation; Everett W. Mayor Goddard To Be Candidate For Re-Election

Although it has generally been understood that Mayor Paul M. Goddard would be a candidate for re-election and that he has replied in the affirmative to inquiries as to his intentions no public announcement has been anticipated. Accordingly a local reference to the coming mayoralty election by the Mayor on Tuesday evening aroused considerable interest. Newton's chief executive facetiously remarked to nearly three hundred men and boys attending the annual athletic night at the high school that he "could use later" the services of one particular senior who had urged that he be "put up for re-election," during the graduation exercises of the high school last Saturday evening.

When called upon to speak Mayor Goddard expressed his pleasure at being invited to attend the athletic night for the second year and added, "I hope I will be here every year." Referring to the incident at the graduation exercises the Mayor said that, inasmuch as the senior class had been standing a considerable length of time he inquired of Principal Raymond Green for permission to announce that they might be seated. Youthful exuberance and enthusiasm greeted the announcement and as the class settled down one boy's voice called out "put him up for re-election." "I would like to know the owner of that voice," the Mayor said, "I could probably use him later on."

The athletic night audience was hilarious with laughter a few minutes later, after the Mayor had concluded pertinent remarks on the lessons of life to be learned from sports of Physical Education when Director of Physical Education Frank M. Simmons as toastmaster, turned to the chief executive and with serious mien said, "I would remind you, Mr. Mayor, that if you are absent from the high school five times you are ineligible for competition."

Newton Teacher To Study On, Leave of Absence

Will Serve As Special Newton Representative

At a special meeting of the school committee on Tuesday evening Miss Ida Scheib, teacher of English in the Warren Junior High School, was granted a leave of absence. The action was taken in order that an intern fellowship might be accepted with the Teachers' Education Commission in Chicago. The purpose of the fellowship is to enable Miss Scheib, as a representative of the city of Newton, to become acquainted with the best practices and techniques of appraising a program of education. With Newton regarded as of high standing in its school system, the study will be along the lines of what is being accomplished in Newton as far as results are concerned and what criteria must be recognized to improve those results.

Miss Scheib will take a 10-week study course at the University of Chicago this summer and will then go into the field for three and a half months. She will have contacts with the best authorities in this field of study, spending a month in Los Angeles and two weeks or more each at the University of Nebraska, Ohio State University, and again at Chicago University. In Los Angeles she will work with persons who have been engaged in the activity in question for more than a year.

Miss Virginia Joyce, a teacher at the Weeks Junior High School, has also been assigned to take the 10-week course during the summer at Chicago.

Mayor Names Former Alderman To License Board

A reorganization of the Newton License Commission was announced this week by Mayor Paul M. Goddard with the retirement of the chairman, and the appointment of a new member. Roy V. Collins, former president of the Board of Aldermen becomes a member of the commission for a six-year term, succeeding William T. Glidden who had served as chairman since the Board was organized seven years ago. John V. Spalding, a present member of the commission was named chairman. A Leslie Moriarty is the third member of the Board.

Chairman Glidden retired at the end of his term, requesting that he not be reappointed. The appointment by the Mayor went into immediate effect, confirmation by the Board of Aldermen not being required. The License Commission controls nearly 80 liquor establishments of the city as well as restaurant and common victualers licenses.

Request Aldermen Take Proper Steps

At the meeting of the Recreation Commission on Tuesday evening steps were taken to officially designate the names of thirteen of Newton's thirty playgrounds and play areas. Although a number of Newton playgrounds have been known by such names as Burr, Ellison, Boyd, Cabot and the like for many years it was recently discovered that the Recreation Department has no official record of Boards of Aldermen in the past having taken action. Accordingly the present Board of Aldermen will be requested to take the proper official steps.

The playgrounds in question are the following: Allison, Victory, Hawthorne and Stearns at Nonantum; Boyd and Burr at Newton; Cabot, Edmonds Park, and Horace Mann in Newtonville; Eden ave. at West Newton; Williams at Auburndale; Emerson at Newton Upper Falls; and Crystal Lake at Newton Highlands.

The recreation commission also has announced the opening of the playground season on July 7th. The possibility of "gasless Sundays" increasing the use of the playgrounds on Sundays this summer by Newton residents was taken into consideration in setting the length of the season. Last year the season extended for seven and a half weeks. The season this year will be a period of seven weeks, from July 7th to August 23rd, with the possibility of a week's extension if possible.

The additional funds for increased Sunday supervision made it necessary to reduce the length of the season temporarily.

The Commission also authorized Recreation Commissioner F. E. Wilson to proceed with plans for summer assignments of directors and supervisors.

Second Annual Athletic Night At High School

Golf Team Rewarded For Sportsmanship

The second annual athletic night at the Newton high school was attended by nearly three hundred winners of athletic awards and their fathers on Tuesday evening. Jim Britt, popular radio sport announcer, and Mayor Paul M. Goddard were the principal speakers. In addition to the awards of letters to 110 athletes in spring sports, a feature of the evening were special awards to the Newton high golf team, undefeated yet forced to relinquish any claim to championship honors by a technical ineligibility ruling.

The event is sponsored by the Boys' Physical Education department under Director Frank M. Simmons, who served as toastmaster for the evening. Coach Donald Enoch of the track team was chairman of the program. Members of the school committee and guests were introduced to the assemblage. Also seated at the head table were the faculty members who are assigned to coaching duties, nearly twenty in number.

Principal Raymond A. Green presented the letter awards and Director Simmons announced the golf team honors. Midway of the season it was discovered that one of the players was technically ineligible by having been designated as a senior for a short period during the 1939-40 school year, preventing his participation in sports, this although at the time he was reclassified as a junior to actually become a senior during the year just ending. Having learned about the situation these had to be forfeited, barring the Newton team from accepting the Greater Boston league title and from participating in the state tournament in defense of the title it had won a year ago.

As a mark of recognition of the sportsmanlike attitude members of the team displayed in accepting the turn of the wheel of fate, Maurice A. Reidy of Newton Highlands, father of the boy whose misfortune unknowingly brought about the situation, sought permission to present to each of the players on the team a collar and tie clip set, shaped as golf sticks. Meanwhile Coach Tom Walters of the golf team had arranged for the presentation, in his behalf, of miniature golf balls, marked with the school letter, in recognition of the sportsmanship of the team. Director Simmons made the presentation of the awards.

Prior to introducing Jim Britt, the Newton track coach, Donald Enoch, announced that the letter members of the team had elected Tom Harris and Ted Wood as captains for the next season.

Mayor Goddard spoke briefly on the lessons in life to be learned out of lessons in sport. Jim Britt gave a most inspiring talk on the value of being a good loser without conceit, and an attempt to lose gracefully, and told many humorous and entertaining incidents in the sports world.

Principal Green, in announcing the letter winners for spring athletics, called attention to the fact that for the first time in the history of the school, letter awards were being made to the cheerleaders. The awards were as follows:

Seek Extension Of Business On Commonwealth Av

A renewal of previous attempts to extend the business zone on Commonwealth ave. has been made at City Hall with the filing of a petition for the rezoning of land between 535 and 543 Commonwealth ave., near Irving st., Newton Centre, from private residence use to business zone. The petition was filed by Christan Reidi. Similar petitions to the Board of Aldermen several years ago were rejected after residents at the location protested.

A public hearing will be held on the matter by the claims and rules committee on a date to be assigned after abutters have been notified. As now zoned the land may be used for a single or two-family residence. The lot is located between the business block at the easterly corner of the avenue and Irving street and a private dwelling.

Vote Funds for Bus for Newton WPA Workers

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held Monday evening in connection with the 21 members present. An appropriation of $409 was unanimously voted after a brief discussion. Alderman Carl F. Schipper, chairman of the Finance Committee, explained that the funds were to be used for the bus transportation of 29 Newton WPA workers to and from Fort Devens. The city has been paying transportation of one busload of workers but the transfer of more workers from local projects necessitated further funds.

The last time it was "easy come easy go."

I lived like I'd hit the jack pot.

What a dumbbell I was.

Now it's different!

I'm getting good pay. It's swell while it lasts—and I'm going to make it last because . . .

... now each pay day I'm putting some away!

Just give it Air — and it'll give you Action

PAYS YOUR GAS TAX FOR YOU

At present Federal tax rates, the Compound Carburetion effect is more than enough to pay Federal taxes on the gas you buy.

MAYBE you didn't know that an efficient gas mixture for your car has about 9,000 parts of air by volume for every one part of gasoline.

That being so, you can see how important air-handling capacity is to your power plant.

Take this stunning Buick FIREBALL straight-eight, with Compound Carburetion! stepping up its horsepower.

Ordinarily, this engine purrs along sweetly with only one of its two carburetors functioning.

That's all you need for most everyday travel at your customary easy-going pace.

But step down on the gas treadle and what happens?

A second carburetor opens up.

Doubles the air-handling capacity. Steps up power, lift, life, action. You go swooshing off like a scared boy with a bee behind him.

Would feeding more gas accomplish the same result?

After a fashion, yes — but why be delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories — extra. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

spendthrift? Why feed your engine gasoline when what it wants is air?

Why indeed — when Compound Carburetion means power as you want it and when you want it — with gas economy that owners say runs as high as 10% to 15% over last year's Buicks?

For that matter — why get less room, less style, less comfort, less value than Buick offers at such little prices?

And why NOT see your nearest Buick dealer now — and at least get the figures on the car that's admittedly the big buy of the season?

†Available at slight extra cost on Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

Newton Streets

The comprehensive survey and exhaustive report of Commr. John D. Haughey of the Newton Street department focuses attention upon one of the most important local matters. For many years there has been criticism of the condition of Newton street surfaces. This criticism has not been intensive or concentrated in any one locality but from time to time has been evident here and there. Maintenance work of what might be termed a temporary character has remedied conditions for a time.

Occasionally in the past we have commented in this column upon the desirability of some sort of a specific program to meet the day when Newton streets would be in a condition where a vast expenditure of public funds would be necessary to meet the needs. That day, apparently, is not too far distant.

Newton's financial condition is in a most excellent shape and an adequate program spread over a number of years is the only solution to an ever-increasing momentous problem. We heartily endorse the principle and the purpose outlined in Commissioner Haughey's recommendations. As to the streets which are most in need of attention and as to a bond issue or financing project we believe that the determination of the extent of the same is in the proper hands. We hope that a start will be made to put Newton streets in the soundest condition possible at the earliest practical moment.

The Gravel Pit

Once again the gravel pit area in the Oak Hill section becomes the figurehead of public attention with the tragic drowning of a Roxbury youth in the water-filled area. The danger of such an incident has long been realized by those who have had the interests of the community at heart. Not only has the area been an eyesore but the lack of co-operation upon the part of those responsible for conditions has been evident in the long-drawn-out legal battle as to what could be done and what could not be done in "stripping" the area and hauling gravel over public streets.

We have no desire to be regarded as being in the "I told you so" or "I lock the stable door after the horse has gone" class, but it is clearly evident that if our local ordinances are not sufficiently strong to control the operations of licensed gravel pit

Boy Drowns in Oak Hill Gravel Pit

Diving Efforts of Patrolman Charlton Recover Victim's Body

Was Swimming In Oak Hill Section

When grappling efforts failed to recover the body of a 15-year-old Roxbury youth from a water hole in the gravel pits of the Highland Sand and Gravel Company at Oak Hill on Tuesday afternoon repeated diving by a Newton police officer finally located the victim of the tragedy in 20 feet of water. Joseph Melendy, of 23 Maywood st., Roxbury, one of a group of six youths who had traveled to the pit on bicycles, and an inexperienced swimmer, drowned when his chums were unable to effect a rescue.

After dragging the pond for more than an hour Patrolman Joseph H. Charlton donned a bathing suit and by diving finally located the boy's body. He was assisted by Patrolmen Edward J. Foley and William L. Whelan. Firemen and police worked over the victim with an inhalator in a vain attempt to revive him. Medical examiner T. Morton Gallagher viewed the body and ordered it removed to a Brighton funeral home.

The boys were engaged in a James Fry, 14, who was "it" started in pursuit of Joseph when the latter, who had reached the middle of the pond began to flounder about helplessly. Fry swam to his aid but was pulled under the water several times, managing to break loose and reach shore exhausted. Meanwhile Joseph McLellan, 16, swam from the opposite shore but also was unable to cope with the struggling youth and was forced to abandon his efforts.

After reaching shore Fry ran to the cemetery nearby and telephoned Boston police with officers from the West Roxbury station responding. Newton police were also notified and cruising cars sent to the scene. Captain Nicholas Vedeuco of the police and Deputy Chief Henry T. Seaver of the Fire Department directed the rescue efforts.

James Melendy, 13, a brother of the drowned youth, James Montello, 13, and Robert Brown, 14, all of Roxbury were the other youths in the gang.

When the boys had started out an attempt had been made to leave the Melendy brothers behind because the pair were due home at 5:30 and the other four wanted to remain longer. A flat tire on the McLellan boy's bicycle delayed them and the Melendy brothers joined the gang before they had left home. The drowning occurred about 1:30.

Young Melendy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Melendy. He also leaves two sisters, Catherine, 17, and Mary, 9.

On Wednesday State Representative Edmond J. Donlon of West Roxbury, whose district is close to the scene of the accident, stated that he would file a bill in the state legislature to compel companies to post bonds to ensure rehabilitation of such properties after work in them has been abandoned. The gravel pit is the site of repeated efforts on the part of the Oak Hill Improvement Association, the city of Newton and others, resulting in considerable court action during recent years against the company.

Norman A. Hall, president of the Oak Hill Improvement Association, stated that his organization had long ago realized the danger of the gravel pit and had appealed to city officials to try to force the company to level the land. The association had received a reply that the "universal exigencies could not be enjoined."

Mayor Goddard Wins Dedication Match

Mayor Paul M. Goddard was the winner of the foursome golf match on Saturday at the dedication of the new course at the Commonwealth Country Club. Governor Saltonstall, who played but four holes, Mayor Maurice Tobin of Boston and President Robert Worden of the club, were the Newton chief executive's rivals.

Governor Saltonstall dedicated the new course which was revamped following the purchase of land from the former Country Day School. While Mayors Goddard and Tobin held a red, white, and blue ribbon stretched across the new 12th green, Governor Saltonstall cut it in two to officially open the hole.

Fred J. Wright, former state amateur champion, captured top honors for the invitation tournament which attracted more than 200 golfers, with a 73, two under par. He blazed around the last nine holes with a 32.

Plan Five New Defense Courses In Trade School

Five new national defense courses will be conducted in the Newton Trade School this summer. The courses will be announced at a meeting of the Advisory Committee of Newton Defense Trade Courses. One of the courses will be for auto mechanics, two day-time courses for machine shop work, one similar night time course for machine employees at the Watertown Arsenal.

The daytime courses in machine shop work will begin on June 23rd and will run for a ten week period to August 29th. One course will be at the Newton Trade School in Newtonville and the other at the trade school quarters in the Hamilton school at Newton Lower Falls, forty men will be accommodated.

The night machine shop work course will run for six weeks from July 21 to Aug. 29 at the Trade School from 10:15 p. m. to 6:15 a. m.

As many persons will attend the summer course related to officials at that plant request.

All expenses of the courses are borne by the Federal government and those to be trained are selected from the WPA and the State Employment Service lists.

The committee, which is comprised of local educators, industrialists and prominent citizens, under the chairmanship of Kenneth S. Dale, general secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A., also approved the request of the State Employment Service that a course for auto mechanics be conducted this summer.

The Boston Metropolitan Chapter, American Red Cross, who handle the arrangements for Blood Plasma for Boston District, has asked the Newton Chapter to announce that more blood donors are needed. Fifty per night are necessary to donate one pint of blood each. This is handled Tuesdays and Thursdays—6:30-8:00 p. m. at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, 7 Huntington St., Boston. Prospective donors should first contact the Boston Metropolitan Chapter, 7 Gloucester St., Boston—KENmore 6226 and register there. Ask for, "Mr. Rice, Blood Service."

Seven Newton Churches In Union Services

California Minister To Preach Series

For the sixth season seven churches of West Newton, Newtonville and Auburndale will unite in services of worship during the summer. During July the services will be held in the Second Congregational Church, West Newton and in August at Central Congregational Church, Newtonville. Rev. Theodore Carswell Hume, pastor of the Claremont (California) Church will be the minister for the entire series.

Churches uniting in the services include the Auburndale Congregational Church, Rev. Ralph H. Rogers; Central Church, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill; Church of the New Jerusalem, Newtonville, Rev. Horace W. Briggs; Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton, Rev. Wm. E. Blake; Newtonville Methodist Church, Rev. J. Franklin Knotts; Second Church, Rev. Boynton Merrill; West Newton Unitarian Church, Rev. Herbert Hitchen.

REV. THEODORE C. HUME

The committee announces that Mr. Hume is a preacher of youth and proved ability. He was born in India, the son of Dr. Edward H. Hume, former president of Yale in China. Living in China until the age of fourteen he came to the United States, graduating from Yale in 1925. He held a French government scholarship at the University in Paris, specializing in the history of the World War. He was elected a Rhodes Scholar in 1926 and studied two years at New College, Oxford where he was graduated with honors in philosophy, political science and economics. He spent three summers as a newspaper correspondent in Geneva at the meetings of the League of Nations.

He studied theology two years at Mansfield College, Oxford and Union Theological Seminary in New York. He was ordained in Chicago in 1930 and was minister of New England Church in that city from 1932 to 1940. Since January 1940 he has been minister at Claremont Church, the only church in the college community comprising Pomona, Scripps and Claremont colleges.

Mr. Hume has traveled extensively, visiting numerous European countries in 1934 and visiting England in 1936 to preach at the Inter-Church Conference on Interchange Preachers. In 1937 he was a delegate to the Oxford World Church Conference and was secretary of the Sub-commission on the Church and War.

During his stay here Mr. Hume and his family will reside in Rockport. He will be available for pastoral service in emergencies for which ministers of the co-operating churches are not needed.

City Employee Severely Cut

James J. Saunders, 44, electrician of the Newton Fire department, was severely cut on the left arm Monday morning while packing rubbish in a barrel at his home on Adams st., Newton. A broken pane of glass in the barrel came in contact with his arm. Six stitches were required to close the gash, at the hospital where he was taken in the police ambulance by Patrolmen John J. Bagley and Joseph M. Greeley.

Make Plans For Air Raid Signals

Among appropriations to be considered by the Board of Aldermen at the next meeting on Monday night is an item of $500 for the purpose of making a survey to determine the number and locations for the installation of air raid warning signals if they should become necessary. The signals would be of the siren type with probable locations being in central sections sufficiently near enough to town to permit the entire city to be blanketed with the warnings.

New Draft Registrants Listing July 1

Local Boards To Select Eleven July 17th

With July first having been set by official proclamation of President Roosevelt as selective service registration day for men who have reached the age of 21 since the original registration day, Oct. 16th, local draft boards are preparing to handle about 500 new names on the local lists. It is expected that the offices of the draft boards at Newton City Hall will be announced as the places of registration.

Propose Junior Police Group

A movement for the formation of a junior police organization similar to that successfully conducted in Boston, for the purpose of preventing juvenile delinquency was inaugurated on Monday. Sponsored by Chief Michael T. Hughes of the Newton Police department the plan was outlined by Deputy Superintendent Carey of the Boston Police, head of the junior police organization. Invitations were sent out to representative citizens including representatives of the clergy, the school department, the Newton Community Council, Recreation department and various civic organizations. About 35 men and women attended.

The group voted to refer the formation of the junior police organization to the Newton Community Council. The organization would require the full time supervision of one or more members of the police department. Supt. Carey stated that in his department a sergeant and 15 patrolmen devote their full time to the junior movement, with each station having its own group of junior police.

The boys receive membership cards, hold regular meetings, are taught to be good citizens, observe the law and keep out of trouble. They take care of offenders within their own ranks by suspension of membership. The police provide various forms of recreation and more than 3,000 attended a camp in the Blue Hills for a week last summer.

Finance Program With Bond Issue

The need for prompt attention to many Newton streets was stressed in a comprehensive report of an extensive survey by Street Commissioner John D. Haughey this week. The survey, covering the condition of all streets in Newton, was submitted to Mayor Paul M. Goddard. In his report Commissioner Haughey recommended immediate attention be given to a number of through streets, connecting streets, and "residential" streets under a three-year program at a cost of $853,270, to be financed in part by a bond issue of at least $500,000.

In forwarding the report to the Board of Aldermen the Mayor commended the street commissioner for his efforts. No action can be taken upon the proposal by the Board without recommendation from the Mayor who has stated that he would give the matter further study before reaching a decision.

Commissioner Haughey warned that unless many streets are given immediate attention complete disintegration of the city's road system would result. He estimated that of the total cost about $100,000 would probably be available from Chapter 90 funds, contributed by the state and county. First attention should be given to streets around shopping centers, parks, playgrounds and schools where the greatest number of people are served, the report states, with many residential streets considered as connecting roads being a part of the planned program.

The report of the Street Commissioner is substantially as follows:

"This report on the condition of our streets is the result of my observation and study of the city as a whole. I found that a great deal of work must be done soon, and that the work must be done at first glance appear all right, but on close inspection show that the binding material has lost practically all of its adhesive quality, might be taken care of. Checking and cracking has started and has worked through the surface. These cracks are caused by heavy loads and frost and if not attended to will cause the complete disintegration of the surface. A large percentage of our streets are of the type that go to pieces quickly and completely, once actual ravelling starts.

"From my observations, I have decided that it would not be possible to complete the amount of work that is necessary in a year or two. The cost would be prohibitive. Therefore, I have made a complete survey of all the streets and have listed them under the title 'Street Survey.'

First Class Roads Best

"The type of construction that we are now using shows that we appreciate the fact that the gravel road has become obsolete. The high cost of maintenance on these gravel surfaces treating roads on year to year and in the long run become more expensive than a first-class road. Further, the riding qualities are not comparable. In order that the water may run to the gutters, it is necessary to give the gravel road twice as much crown as the newer type. This additional crown tends to increase skidding. Another fault of the surface treated road is that it is inclined to be slippery. We are taking care of this to a certain extent by using pea stone for covering. However, there are so many roads of this type that we cannot cover all with pea stone at once. Even if all were covered with stone, they would still be third-class roads. I feel that too much emphasis cannot be put on the complete hopelessness of the gravel road in this day and age. Many of our roads have lost their original shape. They are now practically flat. This condition causes water to stand on the surface and when a car passes, the water is sprayed over the sidewalk or anybody who may be walking by.

Rural Roads Obsolete

"The city is developing so extensively that what was once a rural road now becomes a connecting street and needs to be improved to keep up with the modern times. We have adjacent to our shopping centers, also around our parks and playgrounds streets which are in constant use by the citizens of Newton. Many of these streets are gravel surface treated. I would not be keeping faith with the taxpayers if I did not call this to your attention.

"I feel that we should start at once to replace these roads now under a well planned and organized reconstruction program. The

"The Place For My Savings"

Newton Savings Bank Observes 110th Anniversary On June 17th

Has Been At Present
Location Since 1863

On Tuesday, June 17th, the Newton Savings Bank observed its 110th anniversary. Its history, development and growth is an interesting story in the life of the community.

Going back to the month of December 1826 on a night that a few citizens of the village of Newton held a meeting in the cause of Temperance, history relates the formation of the "Newton Temperance Society and Lyceum." It is said to have been the second society of its kind in New England, the first having been formed a few months previously in Andover. In January a second and formal meeting was held in the schoolhouse at Newton Centre where 27 of the prominent citizens of the town subscribed their names to the constitution and by-laws of the new society.

One of the articles of the constitution read "a savings institution shall be connected with this society, the object of which is to afford members or their families who are desirous of saving their money, a safe and profitable mode of investment, and to encourage them to the practice of prudence, industry and economy." In March 1829 the Newton Temperance Society and Lyceum Savings Institution began business and on June 17, 1831, became incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts. That was the beginning of the Newton Savings Bank.

At the time Newton was a village of less than 2,000 inhabitants. Andrew Jackson was president of the United States, Morse was trying to perfect the telegraph. Goodyear was working with rubber and Howe was working on the sewing machine.

There were no telephones, street cars, electric lights, phonographs, automobiles, wireless, radio, moving pictures or many other things but there were public spirited men and women who believed in the practice of prudence, thrift and economy. In those days unused teapots in the corner cupboards were popular places for savings. It was realized that if the town were to grow such idle money must be put to work to assist the practice of prudence, thrift and economy. In those days unused teapots in the corner cupboards were popular places for savings. It was realized that if the town were to grow such idle money must be put to work to assist the practice of prudence, thrift and economy.

The first treasurer was Deacon Elijah F. Woodward and the second Luther Paul, a name well known in Newton Centre. The houses of the two men were the banking rooms until 1863 when quarters were obtained in the Newton bank building on the exact site of the present building.

The location is interestingly described in a history of Newton as follows: "A little way to the northward, meaning from the railroad station, is the cheerless little square around which are aligned small shops and markets of the village with the dark brick building of the Savings Bank National Banks near the centre, overshadowed by magnificent trees. An ancient store on the corner was devoted to the sale of a few groceries and much New England rum, a comfortable commodity costing then not more than 50c a gallon and considered as much a necessity in every farmhouse as was the inevitable and dyspeptic pork barrel. At 11 in the morning and four in the afternoon the farm hands left their rural avocations with great solemnity and took their regular drams, whereby, as they averred, they were stimulated for the ensuing labors of the else weary day."

In January 1834, five years from the time the bank was started, the grand total of deposits was $1938.34 due 51 depositors. The investment board voted to pay the treasurer for his five year work the sum of $25. A limit of $100 deposit when the bank was opened was made $1,000 in 1870 in conformity with State Law.

In later years the bank grew with the community and in 1896 a committee was named to consider new accommodations. Land was purchased from the then existing Newton National Bank and the present banking house constructed. It was opened for business on May 23, 1898. The building, erected on what was known as Richardson Park, was bounded by Washington, Hall and Centre sts. and covered the entire park in the center of which the little dark brick building had stood.

The brick building was placed on rollers and moved westward on Washington st. It was demolished a few years ago to make way for the new modern quarters of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company.

Following the banquet Governor Saltonstall will address the gathering on "The Automobile Dealer's Contribution to Mass." Other speakers will be Herman A. An experienced staff of men and women will conduct the school which last year reached an enrollment of 76 with an average attendance of 58. Joins Fight Against Sales Tax

The Newton Chamber of Commerce has joined the strong opposition already making its voice heard by the State Legislature regarding pending "sales tax" legislation before it. The local organization has sent letters to Newton members of the General Court and written its members asking that they contact their representatives and senators.
Pending legislation calls for a three per cent tax on sales of specified commodities, excluding food and other necessities of life. Supporters of the measure have advocated it as a means of raising revenue to provide for an increase in the rates of old age assistance from $30 per month to $40 already approved by the legislature. Governor Saltonstall has intimated that he would not sign the bill increasing payments unless provision is made for raising the revenue.

A bulletin issued to members of the Newton Chamber of Commerce by Secretary Rupert C. Thompson reads as follows: "House Bill 1297 (The Sales Tax) will soon come before the Legislature for action. To kill the bill ask Sen. Arthur W. Hollis, Senate Chamber, State House, Boston, and our four representatives: Clarence C. Colby, Douglass B. Francis, Loomis Patrick, Margaret L. Spear, House of Representatives, State House, Boston, to vote against Bill 1297."

Trade School To Graduate Fifty-Four

Exercises This Evening In School Hall

Newton Trade School's Class of 1941 will receive diplomas this evening, June 19, under conditions unique in the school's history. The exercises will be held in the Assembly Hall, Technical Building, Newton High School.
It will not be the usual gathering of seniors at the end of a prescribed course of study. Commencement and graduation for these fifty-four students are not synonymous terms as is usually the case. Actually they "commenced" to work at their respective vocations many weeks ago, and arranged with their employers for time off to go back to school for their diplomas, which will be conferred by Mayor Paul M. Goddard.

Julius E. Warren, superintendent of Newton's schools, will speak on the part Newton Trade School has taken in the National Defense training as well as carrying on regular day and evening courses. He will point out that specific training in basic industries is almost certain at present indications to guarantee employment to many of the young men and women of our city.

"We Will Find a Way or Make One" will be the theme of an address by Kenneth S. Dale, Secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A. Mr. Dale urges the members of the class not to let their good fortune in finding jobs easily in a time of rising employment hinder their preparation for advancement. America is still the land of opportunity—and there should always be a better job to which a good workman may look ahead. Any obstacles can be overcome by those who have the will to do it.

James Forbes, Director of the Trade School, will present the diplomas to the graduates. Six students of the General Department, three of them young women, will be awarded certificates by the Mayor.

J. Collins Lingo, who has been in charge of the musical training of the Trade School throughout the year, will lead the singing of patriotic songs. Roy Garfield, class president, will present the greetings of his classmates. Other officers are Charles Williams, 1st vice-president; Nicholas Mastrogiacomo, 2nd vice-president; Charles Walker, secretary; Maynard Comeau, treasurer.

Rotary Club

The regular meeting of the Rotary Club was held at Brae Burn Golf Club on Monday, with President John Cahill presiding. Singing was led by Laurence Frederick with Lou Hafermehl at the piano.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the election of Honorary Member of G. Wilbur Thompson who joined the Club in 1923, three months after the Club was granted. He has a remarkable record of attendance of nearly 100 per cent since he joined.

The speaker, Ruel W. Beach, past District Governor of the 196th District, was introduced by President Cahill. The subject was "Rotary International Activities."

He spoke of the start of Rotary when a few business men got together with the idea of helping their businesses. In 1910 the national Association was started and in 1911 the first program was adopted, "The Profitable Man Who Serves Best."

In 1915 the Code of Ethics was adopted. He spoke of the good work done by Rotary during the World War No. 1 and the interest shown by having a representative of Rotary at the Peace Conference in 1923. Rotary International took up the work for Crippled Children through Community Service. He suggested that the four objects of Rotary should be channels of expression for every good club and that we train ourselves to practise Brotherly Love, To Relieve the Distressed, and to make Truth a Divine Attribute. He felt that if this is done that it will go a long way toward that goal that all men are striving for, "World Peace."

The boys' summer program begins June 23rd. Cadet registration will be held on Saturday, June 22, from 10 to 12 o'clock. Swimming and water sports will be held every Monday and Thursday through the summer.

Escape FROM SILENCE

Sentenced to silence by the removal of their vocal cords, nearly a hundred New England men and women have escaped, have been enabled to speak again... by means of an artificial larynx.

This ingenious instrument is a by-product of the continuous research of the Bell Telephone Laboratories and is manufactured by the Western Electric Company. Through the wholehearted cooperation of the medical profession with the Medical Department of the New England Telephone Company, patients whose larynx must be removed are not only fitted with this artificial larynx but also instructed in its use.

For those subscribers whose hearing is less than normal... there is the telephone amplifier. This device can be connected to any telephone instrument, and the connection is such that it may be switched off whenever the telephone is to be used by those with normal hearing.

These by-products of the telephone industry seem the more remarkable because they are so unusual. But the usual good service of the everyday telephone, for all its familiarity, is every bit as remarkable.

Draft Evader Pleads Guilty

Before Federal Judge Francis J. W. Ford in Boston yesterday Albert L. Scott, Jr., 26, of 19 Webster court, Newton Centre, pleaded guilty to charges of failing to register for the draft and failure to return a draft questionnaire. Asst. U. S. Attorney Edward D. Hassen contended the youth was not a conscientious objector and a Quaker as claimed and said that the Boston police radical squad listed Scott as a former "shoot" writer for a magazine published by the "Red Shirts." He urged that the defendant be given an 18-month penitentiary sentence.

Attorney Richard Hale, for Scott, stated that these charges were not true and said his client had been a Quaker since 1923. Judge Ford withheld disposition of the case for a week, instructing the prosecuting attorney to produce witnesses and further evidence before sentence was passed. Scott was released on $1000 bail.

Trees Obscure Newton 'Stop' Signs

Judge Donald A. Mayberry of the Newton District court ordered a police investigation into the visibility of "stop" signs on Wednesday when a defendant in a case of failing to "stop and enter" contended that the stop sign was obscured behind long-hanging foliage of a tree. "This is the second complaint I have received of a tree covering a sign," the judge remarked, adding, "an investigation should be made and something should be done."

The charge of failing to "stop and enter" against Murray Grobman, 49 Gardner st., Newton, was placed on file.

Samuel Greenleaf of Brookline, was fined $25 for refusing to stop on signal of a police officer and $5 for speeding. Motorcyclist officer John Fitzsimmons stated that Greenleaf stopped his car after he blew his whistle but drove away as he approached the car. Returning to his motorcycle the Newton officer gave chase along Commonwealth ave. from Exeter st. to Homer st. and finally overtook the fleeing auto on Converse ave., a "dead end" street.

Mayor

A Proclamation
Whereas, the National Safety Council, supported by thirty other national organizations, is conducting a nation-wide campaign to reduce the huge July accident toll, which annually claims nearly 10,000 lives in this country, and WHEREAS, this terrible and needless sacrifice of life is due largely to the Fourth of July celebration, vacation travel, and recreational activities, with added hazards this year growing out of national defense activities;
Therefore, I, as Mayor, knowing that every resident of this city is eager to join a campaign to prevent death and suffering, call upon every citizen to drive and walk more carefully, to be extra cautious in swimming and in the use of fireworks.
The President has decreed an unlimited National Emergency and I join with the Newton Safety Council in the suggestion that in the interest of safety and National Defense we should "Buy Bonds instead of Bombs."

Camp F.A. Day Opens For 26th Season

Annual Banquet Is First Event of Year

More than one hundred and fifty boys answered the assembly call of Bugler Sheldon Jenkins yesterday, as Camp Frank A. Day opened its twenty-sixth season beneath a cloud-decked sky prophesying another auspicious season. New Director, C. Evan Johnson assigned the campers to their tents and introductions to the many new counselors was the order of business immediately following. Enthusiasm was at a high pitch as the boys following dismissal from ranks scattered to many points of the camp to seek out favorite haunts, and look for new additions to the equipment of the campus or waterfront.

This season marks the inauguration of Mr. Johnson, former Associated Director, of the role of Director. He has been associated with Camp Day for about twelve years, and has been the coach of the successful Newton High hockey teams for four years. Mr. Clyde Hess, whom he replaces is now general secretary of the Burlington, Vermont Y. M. C. A. He forwarded his best wishes for a successful season to Mr. Johnson.

One of the outstanding additions to the campus is the construction of four screened buildings to house the boys of the midge division. Typical of the latest and most modern of camp houses it combines compactness and comfort, painted in green and white they are a striking attraction, near the tree-lined main road. Each house provides bunks for seven boys, a counselor and companion counselor, as well as wardrobe compartments for all. Screens on three sides provide ample ventilation for the most sultry of days.

Two Alarm Fire Causes $3000 Damage

Fire Walls Save Stores Next to Nonantum Spa

An early morning fire on Wednesday necessitated two alarms and caused $3000 damage to the Nonantum Spa, a licensed restaurant at 349-351 Watertown st., Nonantum. In the thickly settled district and in a wooden one-story building serious concern was felt for adjacent stores but firemen were enabled to confine the blaze to the restaurant by the presence of fire walls on each side of the two-store space occupied by the establishment.

Water damage in the cellar of the adjoining hardware store of Julia Swartz of 95 Faxon st. was reported. The hardware store on the other side of the restaurant escaped damage. The fire was discovered shortly after 1 o'clock by Sergeant Andrew Moran and Patrolman John A. McArdle. Box 24 was sounded at 1:03 a. m. and Chief Henry T. Sawyer ordered a second alarm at 1:07. Apparatus from Waltham and Wellesley reported to "cover in" at Newton fire stations.

The cause of the blaze, which started in the rear of the establishment, was not determined. The contents of the building were practically destroyed and the building considerably damaged. Jacob Fisher of 2001 Commonwealth ave., Brighton, is the owner of the property.

The Owl Is a Wise Old Bird

The owl is a wise old bird. But whether human beings are supposed to learn from them or whether the owl learns from human wisdom will always be a question. Consequently the appearance of a family of five owls in a tree near the home of Mayor Paul M. Goddard on Trowbridge avenue early this week has been an element of interest as well as curiosity. Owls, also, are supposed to be widest awake at night and incidentally Mayor Goddard was at City Hall on Monday evening during the aldermen meeting until a late hour before going home "with the owls."

Newton Educator On Program of NEA Convention

Haydn S. Pearson, principal of the Bigelow Junior High School in Newton, is scheduled with other outstanding educators to speak before the N. E. A. Department of Special Education which will meet at the annual convention of the National Education Association to be held here June 29-July 3. Twelve thousand teachers and school officials are expected to attend the convention which will center about the theme, "The School's Part in the Maintenance and Development of Democracy." Principal Pearson will address delegates attending the third Special Education session, Tuesday afternoon, July 1, on "The Treatment of Behavior Problems in a Modern Public School."

Sentenced As Draft Evader

Albert L. Scott, Jr., 28, of 19 Webster court, Newton Centre, was sentenced to a year and a day in federal penitentiary yesterday by Federal Judge Francis J. W. Ford on a charge of evading the draft registration. Scott, an insurance salesman, pleaded guilty to charges of failing to register for selective service and failing to return his draft questionnaire. According to U. S. Attorney Edmund J. Brandon the Newton man had shown a defiant attitude since last October and had claimed himself as a member of the Quaker sect. Judge Ford offered Scott the opportunity to comply with the regular procedure of the laws of the United States by completing registration forms which Scott refused to accept. The Federal jurist pointed out that Scott was eligible for deferment under the Selective Service act by reason of being married, having dependents, and being a member of a religious order with conscientious objections.

At the hearing recently considerable opposition was expressed by residents and property owners of the vicinity to the effect that use of the land for parking purposes would be detrimental to property in the neighborhood. The lot is located in the rear of the Washington st. sales and service station of the company.

The matter was returned to the committee for further consideration of the problem with the prospects that a compromise arrangement may be made whereby a portion of the land might be judged suitable for the desired purposes.

Pollution In River Keeps Beach Closed

Recreation Dept. Not To Open Allison Beach

According to announcement by the Recreation Department this week Allison Beach, Nonantum will not be opened for swimming this summer. Three tests taken by the state and city health authorities have shown sufficient pollution in the river at this point to constitute a health menace if used for swimming purposes. Two previous tests having been satisfactory it was believed for a time that the beach might be opened.

Last summer the beach was opened, a temporary bath house was erected but after less than two weeks service it became necessary to close the beach again because of the condition of the river.

The Recreation Department also announced the opening of Crystal Lake beach and Ware's Cove swimming facilities. At Crystal Lake Gilbert Champagne will be in charge assisted by Frank Light, William B. Graham, William Waters, George Delaney, Richard Kline, and Donald Issing as life guards. Phillip Walsh will be the life guard at Auburndale.

Mrs. A. A. McKenzie, matron at Crystal Lake bath house, is serving her 35th year at this popular local swimming resort. Swimming instruction for girls will be in charge of Miss Claire McCarthy with Melville Westgate, Red Cross swimming instructor.

The Recreation Department is planning an extensive program of sewing and knitting for Newton children on the playgrounds this summer in co-operation with the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross. Girls in the junior Red Cross classification will be given instruction opportunities.

Registration for Draft on July 1st

Registration of all persons who have attained the age of twenty-one years on or after October 1, 1940, and on or before July 1, 1941, will take place at the City Hall, Commonwealth ave. and Walnut st., Newton Centre, Massachusetts, between the hours of 7:00 a. m. and 9:00 p. m. on Tuesday, July 1, 1941.

All persons subject to registration under the above requirements are directed to register at City Hall during the hours above mentioned. In case a person subject to registration, by reason of illness or other incapacity, is unable to come to the City Hall on July 1st between 7:00 a. m. and 9:00 p. m. he should send a representative to City Hall during those hours and arrangements will be made for special registration of such individuals.

All persons, subject to registration, within the jurisdiction of Lowell, Board No. 112, No. 113, and No. 114, Newton, on July 1st, 1941, may present themselves at City Hall for registration on that date regardless of what location they may give as their residence. Aliens are required to register.

Withhold Action On Parking Lot

The Newton Board of Aldermen withheld action on the application of the Newton Motor Sales Company for a zoning change on land on Court st. that would permit the use of the property for parking of customers' cars. On the docket the application was designated as having been unanimously rejected by the Claims and Rules committee. The zoning change would place land now in the private residence district into the business zone.

At the hearing recently considerable opposition was expressed by residents and property owners of the vicinity to the effect that use of the land for parking purposes would be detrimental to property in the neighborhood. The lot is located in the rear of the Washington st. sales and service station of the company.

The matter was returned to the committee for further consideration of the problem with the prospects that a compromise arrangement may be made whereby a portion of the land might be judged suitable for the desired purposes.

Elks Give $100 For Service Kits

A sub-committee of the Citizens' Committee is raising a fund for this purpose. Captain Nicholas Vedeccio is chairman. Each volunteer and draftee will receive a kit.

2. Take it easy on the road. Start in time. Don't speed or take chances in passing, especially on hills or curves.

Aldermen To Act At July Meeting

The appointment of a Board of Public Welfare of five members was made on Monday night when Mayor Paul M. Goddard submitted to the Board of Aldermen the names of four prominent citizens who will assume the responsibility, together with Director of Welfare James P. Reynolds, of administering Newton welfare. A recent change in city ordinances authorizing the new form of departmental organization was approved by the aldermen some weeks ago. The appointments of the five, Director Reynolds, Benjamin J. Bowen, Charles C. Dasey, Robert E. Dickerman, and William R. Mattson, were tabled under requirements of the city charter on most majority appointments and will be brought up for confirmation at the next meeting of the aldermen on July 21st. The creation of the Board of Public Welfare, replacing the existing board of two comprising Director Reynolds and Assistant director Lawrence Fitzgerald, was the result of recommendations of the Newton Central Council that the local administration be brought into conformity with state and federal requisites. It was pointed out that the State Department of Public Welfare did not recognize the Newton set-up as compatible with state regulations. It was further indicated that unless a new Board of Welfare was created the only other alternative available in order to prevent the withholding of funds by the Federal authorities was to place Director Reynolds under civil service.

Rep. Francis New Head of G.O.P. Comm.

Other New Officers Elected at Meeting

The Republican City committee was reorganized at a meeting last week with the election of new officers. State Representative Douglas B. Francis was made chairman, succeeding Charles B. Floyd, president of the Board of Aldermen and chairman of the Newton Committee on Public Safety. Mr. Floyd has served as chairman of the G. O. P. city committee for the past several years following the death of the late Hon. Charles E. Hatfield.

Mrs. Ernest P. Railsback of Foster st., Newtonville, was elected vice-chairman of the committee, succeeding Mrs. Ralph P. Henry of Newton. Mrs. Howard C. Thomas of Calvin rd., Newtonville, was elected secretary. Mrs. Ellis Speare, Jr., of Newton Centre, who was elected Newton's first woman representative to the State Legislature last year, was the former secretary.

Former Alderman Kenneth C. Tiffin of Putnam st., West Newton, was chosen treasurer to succeed Alderman George A. Rawson of Newton. The committee plans little activity at the present time as the State election is more than a year away. Chairman Francis, however, is a member of the House Committee which is redistricting the congressional districts in the state, a matter in which Newton Republicans regard as of extreme political importance.

New Parish Priest At Waban

Rev. Thomas J. McDonough, senior curate at the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes in Beaumont, has been assigned as parish priest at St. Philip of Neri parish, Waban. He succeeds the late Rev. Eugene Twomey. The assignment was announced by Cardinal O'Connell.

Fr. McDonough was born in East Boston on July 13, 1892, and was graduated from Boston College. He prepared for the priesthood at St. John's Seminary, Brighton, and was ordained in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross by Cardinal O'Connell on June 8, 1917. His first assignment was at the Cathedral where he remained until 1925 being advanced to Beaumont.

Police To Begin 'Safety-Save' Drive

Chief Michael T. Hughes of the Newton police department this week ordered a "cut speed and save gas" campaign with the dual purpose of curbing accidents and conserving gasoline. He stated, "Statistics show that the higher the rate of speed the greater the amount of gasoline that is consumed. The need for saving gasoline is indicated by the proposal for 'gasless Sundays.' An easy way to conserve gasoline is to reduce speed. By observing strictly the city's 30-mile limit, motorists would not only promote safety but would also perform a patriotic service to the country by saving gasoline."

Newton Lowest In Accident Rate

With an accident rating of 48.6 per cent per 100,000 population, the city of Newton tops the May ratings of the Massachusetts Safety Committee to lead its division of from 50,000 to 100,000 inhabitants. The rating is almost 13 per cent lower than the second city of the group.

For the first time this year Newton went through a month without a fatal accident as compared with a total of six for the preceding four months. During May there were 47 injured in 34 collisions in Newton.

New Members
In naming Director Reynolds as a member of the new Board, Mayor Goddard also designated him as the Board's agent and its only salaried member, the other serving without compensation. Mr. Reynolds' salary will remain at $3,750 a year.

Benjamin J. Bowen of 13 Hillside terrace, West Newton, is a former alderman and retired as secretary of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. He has been a member of the Newton Community Chest budget committee for several years and is also a director of the local Community Chest.

Charles C. Dasey of 344 Lake ave., Newton Highlands, is New England passenger manager of the Cunard White Star Line. He has also been a member of the Community Chest budget committee for the past five years, a member of the present board of directors, and a former president of the Newton Catholic Welfare Committee, a member agency of the Chest. He is also a member of the Newton Public Safety Committee and is serving as publicity chairman of the current defense movement.

Robert E. Dickerman, of 81 Annapolis rd., Waban, is a retired shoe manufacturer. He is a director of the Family Service Bureau, a private welfare organization, and a member agency of the Chest. He is also chairman of the Division of Welfare and Relief of the Newton Central Council. In that capacity he conducted a study of the local situation in regard to the organization of the welfare department and is the author of the report to the Central Council which resulted in the adoption of the recommendation for a five-man Board of Welfare.

SWP HOUSE PAINT

Why are more homes painted with SWP?
... than with any other brand of PAINT?

● A simple question — and just as simply answered. SWP gives every homeowner each and every feature he wants in a fine house paint!

Beauty... color... richness of finish... SWP has them plus. Complete and lasting protection... SWP has a tougher, "tighter" protective film of unequalled durability. Economy... SWP covers more surface with a thicker blanket of paint per gallon; is quick and easy for the painter to apply; and finally it's washable.

Extra grinding of SWP pigments assure better coverage. SWP has greater "hiding power"... covers better. SWP colors combine beauty, uniformity, permanence. You can wash SWP easily and save a repainting. SWP retains its smooth, beautiful surface.

See the 32 beautiful SWP colors at our Store and get your free copy of our book "The Truth About House Paint."

Postal workers from the various branches in the Newtons, Waltham, Wellesley, Weston, Needham, and Watertown will celebrate their fourth annual outing and field day next Sunday at the spacious grounds of the Norwood Elks in Norwood, Mass. Rain or shine the boys of Uncle Sam will enjoy the day since the clubhouse is a large roomy building with bowling alleys, and other amusements of club style.

A gold trophy will be awarded the team winning the softball championship for which the crack Waltham P. O. team is a heavy favorite. Also a grudge bowling match will take place between the Newton and Newton Highlands teams which recently finished in a tie during the regular league season but with Newton winning the title because of the largest season pinfall. Graham, Mrs. Harris P. Gray, Mrs. J. A. McAuliffe, Miss L. Gertrude Sprague and Miss Mary R. Stark.

Church Struck In Newtonville

The freak storm of last week Wednesday did little damage to property in the Newtons other than flooded streets. A lightning bolt struck the steeple of St. John's Church, Newtonville, knocking the shingles from a large portion of the cone-shaped tower and exposing the tarpaper base. No fire occurred and repair of the damage was begun promptly.

Several streets were flooded during the storm as catch basins failed to carry off the onrush of water. Hail stones as large as marbles beat heavily against rooftops and windows, and piled up on the ground to cover some sections with a layer of white.

The tropical downpour started about 5 o'clock and was particularly heavy on the north side of the city. A manhole cover at Centre and Bennington sts. was lifted by the rushing waters. At Commonwealth ave. and Valentine st., West Newton, a geyser, several feet in height, rose through a manhole. Lowell ave. was flooded to a depth of nearly a foot, as were numerous other sections. Men were out to open up the clogged catch basins as police notified the street department of the conditions.

City Employees Meet To Install Officers

Installation of officers and the election of a new treasurer featured the meeting of the Newton Local City Employees' Union on Friday night at Sons of Italy Hall, Nonantum. Plans were also made for the annual outing on Saturday, June 28th at Vose's Grove, Maynard.

Thomas E. Moran was installed as president succeeding retiring president John N. McMullen, who recently was appointed to the Newton police force. John D. Russo was unanimously elected treasurer. William P. Nally, was installed as vice-president. William J. Bryne of Medford, state secretary-treasurer, was the installing officer and was assisted by Mr. McMullen.

The committee arranging the outing comprises John N. McMullen, general chairman, Joseph Landry, John D. Russo, William P. McNally, Frank L. Guerin and A. Leslie Moriarty.

A softball game between city officials and employees will feature the outing. Mayor Paul M. Goddard and former Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Street Commissioner John D. Haughey, Water Commissioner Joseph J. Murray and Recreation Commissioner F. Ewing Wilson will be invited guests.

City employees have been working an extra hour each night this week for four nights in order to make it unnecessary to report on Saturday.

Presentation was made by Rear Admiral W. T. Tarrant, U. S. Navy Commandant of the First Naval District. The prize is offered by Charles Francis Adams, former secretary of the navy and Charles Francis Adams, Jr., U. S. N. R. '32.

Rotary Club

The regular meeting of the Rotary Club was held at Brae Burn Golf Club at 12:15 on Monday with President John Cahill presiding. Singing was led by James Melcher with Louis Haffermehl at the piano.

The speaker, J. Edgar Hamlett, Regional Vice-President of the White Motor Company, a member of the Boston Rotary Club and an immediate Past Vice-President of the Baltimore Rotary Club, was introduced by Harold Batchelder. The speaker stated that in 1914 there were only about 25,000 trucks registered but in 1940 there were over 1,000,000. He said that approximately 86 per cent of trucks are owned and operated by private firms and that 25 per cent are operated by farmers. He stated that trucks more than pay their way as private cars pay about $26.00, light trucks pay $105.00, the heavy trucks $403.00 and the heavy trailer trucks $832.00.

He then showed a moving picture entitled "Singing Wheels." This picture showed all kinds of trucks which were hauling commodities of every description as well as trucks on construction work. In one part of the picture all the various trucks were eliminated which showed how vital they are to maintain the movement of all the necessities of life.

Home-Stretch Spurt Any Time You Say

PAY'S YOUR GAS TAX FOR YOU
At present Federal tax rates, the savings on gasoline effected
by Compound Carburetion are usually more than enough to pay Federal taxes on the gas you buy.

PLENTY of men can run a mile around a cinder track.But those who win races—and championships—are the ones who can turn on the plus when it's needed.Probably that's why you hear so much these days about Buick's exclusive Compound Carburetion.†It gives you an engine that will cruise right along with the distance runners and pile up plenty of miles for your gasoline money.No fooling—owners write in to tell us of mileage as much as 10% to 15% greater than previous Buicks gave.But any time you want plus-performance—a home-stretch spurt—just step down on the gas treadle.Instantly, you send an extra carburetor into action. You step up the supply of both gasoline and air—and virtually give yourself a bigger engine to get you places in a hurry.That means thrills—and plenty of them.

It means sure-fire lift in the pinches, zooming power whenever you say.It means, also, efficiency—proper use of every drop of fuel without useless waste.It bears out the Big Point about this 1941 Buick—that on size, style, comfort, room and ability, it's far and away the top value of the year.To see how true that is, just go size one up against the low delivered prices your nearest Buick dealer is asking.†Available on Buick SPECIAL models at slight extra cost, standard on all other Series.

board was authorized Alderman Carroll J. Hoffman of Newton Centre offered a motion that the president of the Board appoint a special committee on welfare to study Newton's welfare problems and administration. Action on the motion was postponed and the matter laid on the table. Prior to adjournment of the meeting on Monday night Alderman Hoffman sought to have his motion adopted arguing that because of the present downward trend in the relief fund it was an opportune time "to put our house in order." He concluded that he had no thought of the committee getting into matters of executive function.

Alderman Carl F. Schipper, chairman of the Finance Committee, opposed the Hoffman motion stating that he had given considerable thought to the question of whether the administration of welfare was the proper subject for an ad hoc committee and all that the aldermen could do was to appropriate the necessary money. Any other matter of welfare was an executive function or could be properly handled by the new board. Alderman Joseph B. Jamieson stated that he failed to see what right the committee would have to do anything other than as a subcommittee of the Finance Committee. Alderman George E. Rawson, chairman of the Committee on Claims and Rules, also opposed the Hoffman motion.

In rebuttal Alderman Hoffman pointed out how the WPA rolls were closely tied in with welfare problems and stated that the planning of welfare could be efficiently handled by applying the fundamental principles of city relief. Eventually, he declared, there will be a need for such a committee. On a voice vote the motion was overwhelmingly defeated.

She had been at home over the week-end making plans for her approaching wedding on Friday of this week to William Walter Dudley of Watertown. The wedding will be postponed until her recovery.

—Camp Day

The waterfront has improved equipment from the local boatyards, and all boats, canoes, rafts, and sailboats have been freshly painted by the counselors who reported to camp several days early for that purpose. Basketball court, tennis courts, volleyball courts and baseball field have all been well-groomed by the staff in preparation for the coming season. A new wing has been added to the hospital to make that part of camp equal to any infirmary facilities in a camp of the type.

Banquet in Evening
The official opening event of the 1941 season was saved for the evening when the campers, counselors, trustees and invited guests enjoyed one of Nils Johnson's prepared turkey dinners. Returning again to preside over the kitchen, and aided by his second chef of the past seasons, Nils promises to maintain his high standards of other years.

The program which succeeded the dinner was made lively by the singing of many of the old songs by Walter Fleischer, a member of the Harvard Glee Club. A hearty welcome was extended to the boys by Director Johnson, who then introduced to the campers the Chairman of the Camp Committee, Mr. C. D. Kepner who spoke briefly of the high ideals of Camp Day. Each boy then stood up and gave his name, nickname and town to the entire assembly. The singing of the camp song, "On the Shores" closed the affair and the boys went to their respective tents to the accompanying "Call to Quarters."

In addition to Mr. Kepner other members of the Camp Committee who were present were: Mr. Harry Bascom, former general secretary of Newton Y. M. C. A., Frank A. Day, Jr., president, Dr. Harold Giddings and Frederick Hawkins.

Camp Staff
The Camp Day staff is dominated by new men for the current season in numbers, but the boys from the past eight years have returned to guide the counselors in the ways of camp. Besides Mr. Johnson as Director, Mr. Thomas F. O'Donnell, teacher-coach at Dedham High, will be Director of the senior division and Mr. Fred L. Day, retired preparatory teacher will again head the Midget Camp and act as Nature Director. Mr. Sydney C. Roberts, teacher at Falmouth Junior High will direct the Junior Camp, and supervising the Craft Shop.

Returning veterans are Dick Karl of Framingham High who will serve as Tennis Instructor and counselor in the senior division; and Carter Munroe, a graduate of Exeter Academy, who is the track coach and counselor in the senior division. Loring Kidder, of the dining room supervisor, and Frank Brock, aided by Robert Martin will be assistants to Chef Nils Johnson.

Dr. John F. Flinn, a graduate of Tufts College Medical School, is the camp doctor, and has already won the hearts of the boys by his patience and thoroughness. Heading the Ranger Camp is Dwight Moody of the University of Maine, a two-miler on the track team of that college. Robert Worrick, also of the University of Maine, is the program director.

Following are other staff members: Eliot Hall, teacher at Waltham High; Eugene Phenner, Massachusetts School of Art; Edward Parson, Yale University; Max Kraus, member of Harvard University's swimming team; Richard Sampson of Bowdoin College; Richard Sawyer of Duke University; Robert Desautels, member of Harvard's Glee Club; Warren Fleischer of Harvard University; Arthur Barnard, graduate of Massachusetts N. Y. High; David Clark, Amherst College; William Bucklin, Rhode Island State College; William Lucht, Andover Academy; Robert Proctor, Wellesley High; Guy Worrick, Wellesley High; John Masters, Boston University; Sam Lindsey, Bentley School; and Don Chalmers, Carl Eschbach, Robert Black, Ray Hunting, Walter Pratt, Sheldon Jenkins, Colby Ellis and Richard Wright, all of Newton High.

On Monday night Mr. Kenneth Dale, General Secretary, addressed the members of the staff, taking as his subject, "The Ideals of Y. M. C. A. Camps." He stressed the Christian spirit which should activate the counselors and the high service they can render to the youth who will come under their direction. "Do not try to change their ideals, but lead them to the goals set by their families."

Residents Oppose Road Acceptance

Considerable opposition was expressed to the city's efforts to construct Howe rd., Oak Hill under the betterment act at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday evening. Dr. Frederick Hovstad of Howe rd. expressed himself in favor of the improvement and stated that the dusty condition of the street was a health menace.

Walter P. White, representing the White-Carey Lumber Company which holds title to land on Howe rd. opposed the building of the street at the present time as unnecessary and inadvisable with the anticipated increase in taxes to be levied by the government until "Hitler is finished." Edmund J. McGreany, a resident of Howe rd., stated he did not believe it right that an employee of the street department should try to sell the idea to residents that if it was desired the efforts should be made by property owners. White also stated that when the sewer was laid a few years ago and assessments made upon the taxpayers to include it. He concluded that a macadamized surface would result in automobile traffic being speeded up with a consequent increase in danger to children of the vicinity. Norman A. Hall, president of the Oak Hill Improvement Association, but speaking as an individual and a resident of Howe rd., stated that there was no concerted demand for the improvement and that many thought it followed too close on the sewer assessments. He added that residents had been told that if they did not sign the petition they were blocking progress and that one individual had said that he signed it because he was going to lose his house to the bank and he "wanted to stick the bank as much as possible."

Otto A. Both, a resident of Jane rd. at the corner of Howe rd. favored the improvement stating that he had personally seen to it during much of the past year and a half that the holes were kept filled in and oiled to keep down the dust.

W. L. Cummings of Jane rd., which street was also the subject of a hearing without opposition, favored the improvements stating that it was badly needed, that once improved automobile danger would be reduced because they could be stopped more readily on a good surface, and "at least it will be plowed in winter whereas a private way is not."

On hearings for laying out and accepting Albion rd. in Newton Centre, Roosevelt rd. in Newton Highlands, and Whittlesley rd., Oak Hill there was no opposition. Letters in favor were read in regard to Roosevelt rd. from the District of 46 Roosevelt rd. and the Newton Realty Corporation, owner of two lots on that street. Mrs. Joseph Kaplan and Miss Turner spoke briefly in favor of the Albion rd. improvement.

Later in the session the Aldermen voted appropriations for street work which was the subject of previous public hearings. Among these appropriations were $3370 for Wyoming rd., Newtonville; $4500 for Barnes rd., Newton; $1000 for Oakleigh rd., Newton; and $2497 for land made in connection with the latter.

The appropriation of $579 for the pension of James F. Regan, foreman, retired, was voted as was an additional amount of $55.13 for the pension of Antonio Annesema, war department employee, the original pension had previously having been in error.

An item of $109.26 was appropriated for the assessing department to provide for a three-week vacation period for Miss Sarah Harley who has been employed at City Hall since 1897 and who will retire on July 1st.

NEWTON In The Past

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, June 26, 1886
There are now five patients at the Cottage Hospital, and this is only the third week it has been in operation. This proves how much it was needed here.

It has been decided to retain the Newton postoffice in its present location, but to take nearly half of the store it occupies. As it is in the most convenient place, the decision will give general satisfaction.

The Bailey building is no more, it having been torn down the past week, and the lumber removed. The lot on which it stood has been divided into small lots and they will be sold at auction Saturday afternoon.

The "skeleton of the feast" standing in the way of the Newtonville Square Improvement Committee has vanished, as Mr. Bailey has torn down the buildings. Now let some of our public-spirited citizens buy the land which will be sold tomorrow at 3 o'clock, and erect a handsome hall, such as our ward greatly needs, and which would prove a profitable investment.

It is expected and hoped that a few hundred loads of dirt will be ordered for the street in front of Greenwood's store, Newton Highlands.

The highway committee was over here (Newton Highlands) Tuesday afternoon looking over the square, and speculating about the cost of filling it in. No decision was reached.

The city of Newton is the only city of importance in New England without an electric light of any nature. Many small villages of only about 200 or 300 inhabitants all over the Eastern states have them, the latest being Turner's Falls, a small manufacturing village up in the western part of this state.

E. P. Burnham heads the 1st as a strawberry picker, as well as a cyclist. He was passing Mrs. Goddard's residence on Waverley ave. the other day, when the gardener called him in to see the berries men were picking. In order to show them how Mr. Burnham took a quart basket and filled it in 54 seconds.

President Everett of the boat club has a new "shell" on the river, 31 feet in length, out of which he was handsomely precipitated while practicing one evening recently. He is thinking of naming it "Cleveland" because of its "throwing out" proclivities.

If you wish to ride to Newton Centre from Boston by way of Riverside, your ticket will be thirty-one cents, distance fourteen miles. For forty-seven cents you may ride from Boston to Boston via Brookline and Newton, stopping at twenty-one stations in one hour and fifteen minutes, distance twenty-two miles. Three of these points are flag stations, as was Newtonville, forty-five years ago, when it was called Hull's crossing, and where Walnut st. was a "pleasant place."

A man walked into Dr. Stone's barn, Wednesday, took a good overcoat and left a poor one. He has not yet been found.

The rains of the past week have interfered with the moonlight runs of the Nonantum and Newton clubs and caused most of them to be given up.

The Boston Police Commissioners have announced that no liquor licenses will be granted in Oak square, Brighton, this year. This will be good news for the Newton residents near the Brighton line.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, June 26, 1891
Native strawberries are of unusual size, owing to the recent rains, which have made the crop an average good one.

Newton was represented in this year's graduating class at Harvard by William J. Farquhar, James A. Lowell of Chestnut Hill; Lee Boone Thomas and Maurice H. Wildes of Newton Centre.

Do you patronize the temperance drugstore? (Newtonville item.)

Mr. W. B. Bosson's display of roses this year is probably one of the finest to be seen in this vicinity. He has some rare and beautiful specimens in an exquisite combination of colors.

Mr. Stanton D. Loring and family are rusticating in Hull.

Editorial—The Boston & Albany managers have finally been convinced of the dangerous nature of the Walnut st. crossing, and a flagman has appeared there this week. The recent narrow escape from a wholesale fatality probably had something to do with this, and the petition for a street railway location may have helped matters.

Armstrong Brothers have secured the services of one of the best shoe makers and cobblers in the state, and have placed him in the old stand lately occupied by Wm. Cotter. A trial of his work will prove to all that he can do the best job in the city. All work done inside eight hours.

Company C Called Out. At 12.35 a. m. Captain Cormerais was telephoned to assemble Company C at the West Newton armory at 8 a. m. At 7 a. m. 62 of the 65 men had reported. The others started from Pocomasset, Amherst, Cohasset and Brooklyn. One hundred recruits wanted to bring Company to war-time strength of one hundred and forty men. Company was barracks at Framingham.

State Senator George H. Ellis announces that he will not seek re-election after serving five years in House of Representatives and two years in State Senate. Representative James E. McPherson of Framingham is expected to be a candidate for the Republican nomination to the Senate.

Protest filed with authorities at City Hall by residents of Newton Centre and Newton Highlands against the use of the bathhouse at Crystal Lake. Last year 12,000 persons used the place. City solicitor states that if bathhouse is removed there is nothing to prevent bathing from using lake. Play ground Commission to hold hearing June 29th.

A collision at Margin and Putnam sts., West Newton last Friday morning between an automobile and a milk truck resulted in injuries to four occupants of the automobile, all members of the same family. All received cuts and bruises and severe shaking up.

Operator of the truck was Carl E. Johnson of 18 Thaxter rd., Newtonville, who told police he was driving south on Putnam st. about 7 a. m., crossing the railroad bridge. When he reached Margin st., he applied the brakes but they failed to work. The automobile, containing Mary Connelly, 34, driver, John J. Connelly, 63, Catherine Connelly, 67, and Agnes J. Connelly, 22, all of 25 Westfield rd., West Newton, crossing Putnam st. was struck by the truck. Johnson expressed the opinion that the fluid had leaked out of the hydraulic brake mechanism. A case of milk and several bottles of cream were shattered.

In a collision between two automobiles at Beacon and Chestnut sts., Waban, last Saturday afternoon shortly after 5 p. m., a man and a woman were injured. William G. Benson, 66, of Huntington ave., Boston, was hurled out of one car and suffered a severe back injury. He was teaching Jean A. Pigeon, 36, of Orchard ave., Waban.

Alice E. Horn, 64, of Springfield, a passenger in the other car, operated by her husband, Arthur M. Horn, suffered fractured ribs. The injured persons were taken to the hospital in the police ambulance which clearly depicted cause and prevention of these accidents.

Grant Permits
For Oil Storage

A permit to increase the storage facilities for fuel oil at the station owned by the late John T. Daley, was granted by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. There was no opposition expressed at the public hearing when the aldermanic session opened. A representative of the station told the Aldermen that the requested increase of 54,000-gallon tankage was essential because of the possible shortage in distribution equipment due to defense emergencies. The Aldermen also approved a permit for the installation of a 550-gallon private tank on the estate of Swan Hartwell, 175 Temple st., West Newton. Mr. Charles E. Farrell of Hillsdale, N. J., who is the owner of the tank, stated that the former permit for a tank for private use had run out and it was desired to renew it because of the need of several automobiles, power grass-cutting equipment and the like.
